Adelaide High School is a school with strong traditions. The wearing of the school uniform is one of the traditions of Adelaide High School. The school recognizes the diversity of its community and respects the cultural and religious beliefs of its members.

At times, therefore, special allowances are made to support the cultural or religious beliefs of students and families with regard to the uniform. In cases where the uniform code does not cater for specific cultural/religious beliefs and customs, parents/carers are requested to discuss the issue with the Principal. The Principal will make a decision regarding any exceptions.
