

Topic Design Worksheet

NAME: .....

Fill in the sheet below with your ideas for the topic for your group's Webquest. Remember: the more information that you have the easier it will be to convince your group that yours is the topic you should be doing for your Webquest.

Stage 1: Research a topic

As you research jot down some ideas on possible topics that you come across. Pick one to follow up on.

Possible topics: ideas that you had as you researched.

Topic that you have chosen to progress with:

What is the question for this Webquest? (You will need to refine this question as you find out more about your topic, but it should be a challenging, problem-solving question like the examples we have looked at).

Why have you chosen this topic? (You will need this information to try and convince your fellow team members that you should be doing YOUR topic).

Stage 4: Group Consensus

Its now time to take your suggestions to your group and see what they think. Whose topic will be chosen? The suggestion that is the best prepared and has had the most information in it is likely to be the one. Will it be yours?
